Let’s Talk Teletherapy!
Join us to learn about making the most out of your teletherapy sessions!

Teletherapy can be an incredible opportunity to have one on one contact with your providers to help solve issues at home – if you make the most of it!

This Live Talk will give you the tools to communicate your concerns with your provider while developing strategies you can actually use with items you actually have right at your fingertips.

We will explore how to combine goals from all disciplines so you can structure your therapy with your child to get the most bang for your buck.

ABOUT THE HOST
Elizabeth Bailey-Sands Clay has been working directly with children with complicated medical issues in their homes for over 25 years. She is the Director of Physical Therapy at Beyond Boundaries: Therapy for Kids and is the only therapist in New York with advanced certification in Manual Structural Correction of the Symptom Recovery Models. This former home-school mom is passionate about adaptive equipment and manages a library to get gently-used adaptive equipment into children’s homes as quickly as possible.
